Instructor was willing to explain the portions as many number of times as required	Nothing
The way he is teaching is very good. Also it is very interesting to be in his class. Also he is very organised.	No comments
The lectures are exceptionally good and have helped us get a very good understanding of the Programming Principles. Also Sir ensures that each and every student in the class understands the concepts thoroughly. The tutorial sessions each week also provide a kind of weekly revision along with clearing doubts and sharing of ideas.	.................Nil................
Explains concepts very clearly.	No comments..
way of teaching,good and deep knowledge about subject,explained every concept with relevant and realworld examples	no comments
His effort to make students understand each and every concept.	He is good in all aspects of teaching.

He is very clear in telling what actually we have to do. He presented the subject properly and in fully organized way.	Many times it happened that he paced fast only because of the computer science background students who responded him fast as a result of that those who are not from such background they suffered or it became boring.

more lively and good involvement	no comments
Excellent Undestanding of Scheme . Highly professional approach. Punctual to the core..	Sometimes he tries to explain our doubts so elabourately , but in the end I tends to be more confused
Excellent class. It was really useful.	I found it difficult to do Javascript labs. Please provide necessary help.

Course was taught well. Simple way of teaching.Instructor was very particular about ensuring that the subject was clear to each and every student.Overall very good teaching.	No shortcomings
the classes and the labs should be synchronized.	Nothing.

The involvement of instructor both at delivering lectures and receiving feedbacks. Innovative and effective usage of computing resource for the course. Illustrating concepts in an abstract manner initially and then going for applying the same. Providing a healthy and competitive environment conducive to effective learning. Emphasizing on the concepts rather than bullwork of writing of programs which was well applied in quizzes, exams. The emphasis laid upon the punctuality and verbal communication throughout the course helped a lot.	At times the vocabulary used in the course was a bit hindrance in grabbing the concept well. Too much stress on a particular concept, sometimes during the course, led to boredom.
